

Assistive Technology in DE Public Schools

We want to hear from you!

The Center for Disabilities Studies (CDS) at the University of Delaware would like to hear about your experience with Assistive Technology (AT) in Delaware public schools. AT can refer to anything from post-its to computers that can help a person with disabilities benefit from education, work, or recreation.

Who can participate?

- Parents/caregivers of a K-12 student with disabilities
- Special education teachers or administrators
- General education teachers
- AT support staff
- IT/Technology staff

What do I have to do?

60-minute virtual focus group or interview about AT in Delaware public schools

Is there any compensation?

People who volunteer for the interview will receive a $20 Amazon gift card for their time

How do I sign up?

If you would like to participate, sign up using one of the following options:

EMAIL:
atindelaware@gmail.com

CALL OR TEXT:
302-722-5719

SCAN THE QR CODE:

<https://tinyurl.com/atindelaware>

UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE
CENTER FOR DISABILITIES STUDIES

Center for Research in Education & Social Policy